Peace of mind at no extra cost

When you protect your horse with INNOVATOR vaccines, you are also protected with our Equine Immunization Support Guarantee. This reimburses up to $5,000 for diagnostic and treatment costs if a veterinarian properly administers one of these vaccines and the horse later contracts the disease.*

*Please see the Zoetis Equine Immunization Support Guarantee certificate for complete details and requirements.

ZOETIS EQUINE IMMUNIZATION SUPPORT GUARANTEE

Zoetis is proud to partner with veterinarians to assure horse owners that their horses are receiving the best possible health care and disease protection.

Zoetis will support reasonable diagnostic and treatment costs up to $5,000 if a horse properly vaccinated with one of our core or risk-based antigens contracts the corresponding equine disease:

CORE DISEASES VACCINATED AGAINST
- Eastern equine encephalomyelitis (EEE)
- Rabies
- Tetanus
- West Nile
- Western equine encephalomyelitis (WEE)

RISK-BASED DISEASES VACCINATED AGAINST
- Equine Influenza
- Equine rhinopneumonitis (respiratory) caused by equine herpesvirus types 1 (EHV-1) and 4 (EHV-4)
- Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE)

- Program offers direct financial support specific to lack of vaccine efficacy for any properly vaccinated horse, pony or mule. Does not include any other adverse events associated with vaccine administration.
- Horse must be vaccinated by a licensed veterinarian with an established client-patient relationship.
- Veterinarian or clinic must be the primary point of contact for this support program to be valid. Zoetis will direct all requests from horse owners, breeders, etc., to the vaccinating veterinarian who in turn will notify the support request on the form.
- At the time of the support request, veterinarians must collaborate with Zoetis to confirm appropriate diagnostic and treatment regimen. A diagnosis must be made using a lab test predominant by VMPS. To contact VMPS, call 888-ZOETIS-8585 (888-963-8585).
- Veterinarians must submit a copy of medical records pertinent to the case, including vaccine brand, serial number and date of vaccination.
- Support requests involving foals less than 6 months of age, or involving onset of disease within three weeks of completing the initial immunization series, are not covered.
- Horse must have received an age-appropriate, initial vaccination series per the vaccine label. A Zoetis vaccine must be the most recent vaccine used in the series.
- All payments made under the immunization support program may require a signed consent form from the veterinarian and/or horse owner.

Zoetis reserves the right to modify this program at any time and for any reason.

All of the proceeds go directly back to the Legends of Ranching Program!
I would like to welcome everyone to the 15th annual Legends of Ranching (LOR) Performance Horse Sale. As Colorado State University navigates the academic year amid a global pandemic, it goes without saying that our entire CSU community is experiencing many firsts.

What stands as a constant is the excellence of the Legends of Ranching Program within the College of Agricultural Sciences. The LOR is a unique program that engages many CSU undergraduate and graduate students from varying backgrounds with diverse scholastic and professional goals. There is no better educational opportunity than a “hands-on” experience for a student. Colorado State University is extremely proud of the Legends of Ranching Program and it would not be possible without the generous and kind support of our many valued consignors and sponsors.

The impact to the Legends of Ranching program as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic has been largely positive. While it has changed many aspects of the students’ lives, the need to care for and educate students and horses has remained the same. By virtue of many of the universities class offerings becoming virtual, many students have experienced additional flexibility in their class schedules. This has allowed students to take advantage of additional instruction opportunities outside of regularly scheduled labs. As a result, the students and horses have progressed more efficiently and been able to obtain a greater depth of knowledge.

Thank you for your continued support of the Legends of Ranching Program!

Bar Rock-N-Bean Quarter Horses is located near Eaton, Colorado, and was established by Todd and Kristen Bean. Todd, an alumnus of Colorado State University, attended and played football from 1987 to 1991 and has kept ties with CSU over the years. Particularly the Beans have participated in the Legends of Ranching Sale annually and have been overly impressed with the quality of consignments as well as the teamwork of the students in the Equine Science Program.

The Bar Rock-N-Bean breeding program is built on the foundation of prolific sires such as AQHA Super Horse Real Gun, and NCHA and NRCHA All-Time Leading Sires Playgun and Peptoboonsmal. The daughters and granddaughters of these superior stallions were selected for the breeding operation because they offer great minds, good bone, and sound feet. The ranch’s goal is to produce well-minded, athletic, and versatile horses that can excel in a variety of performance disciplines and environments.

The ranch’s consignment this year is sired by Quail Hunter, aka “Hooch”. Bred by the Four Sixes Ranch, the gray son of Paddys Irish Whiskey is out of one of Harry Haythorn’s outstanding mares. The stallion was purchased by Todd and Kristen Bean in 2008 and has made substantial contributions to the Bar Rock-N-Bean program with his size, conformation, and incredible disposition. Currently owned by Haythorn Ranch, both ranches look forward to foals from this sire in the future.

Thank you for your interest in the Bar Rock-N-Bean consignment and for supporting CSU.
Nestled in the Western Sandhills of Nebraska, BOXO Quarter Horses is owned and operated by Cash and Jecca Ostrandar, who are dedicated to breeding and raising honest work horses that can excel in both the show pen and out on the ranch.

The Ostrandar family at Willow Creek Ranch laid down roots in the area back in the 1880s and are fourth and fifth generation ranchers. Both Cash and Jecca live within 30 miles of their birthplace, and these strong ties to the land are evident every day in the Angus cows and quality Quarter Horses they produce. The couple have three children, one of whom, Stetson, still lives and works on the ranch with his wife Courtney and daughter Tenley.

BOXO Quarter Horses have been a part of the AQHA Ranching Heritage Program since it was established in 2011, and support the program as a donor to the AQHA Ranching Heritage Youth Horse Development Program. In 2016 BOXO was awarded the inaugural AQHA Ranching Heritage Breeder of the Year Award, an achievement they are extremely proud of as they see the program as an excellent way to showcase the versatility of the ranch horse.

BOXO's resident sire, SNW Heavens King, purchased in 2004 from Stan and Nancy Weaver, is the cornerstone of the breeding program. New to the BOXO stallion line-up is 2018 AQHA World Champion Junior Working Cow Horse, Opus Cat Olena (WR T is Cats Smart x Opus Chic x Smart Chic Olena), the earner of $131,663.

Thank you for your interest in the Box O Quarter Horses consignments and for supporting CSU.
In 1968, William “Billy” S. Morris III of Augusta, Georgia, acquired Creek Plantation, comprising of 2526 acres of timberlands and open field used for agriculture. The acquisition offered Morris the opportunity to pursue a lifelong interest in quarter horses and to launch a first-rate breeding program. Over the years, the operation expanded to nearly 14,000 acres and encompasses three commercial enterprises: horses, cattle, and timber.

In the mid-1970s, Morris became interested in the sport of cutting and not only was instrumental in founding the Augusta Futurity but expanded his breeding program that went on to produce numerous NCHA winners, including Splash of Gin, Wheeling Peppy, Miss Smooth Splash, Judge Tanquery, Shes Pretty Smooth, and Gincoe among others.

Morris’ agricultural interests are not limited to horses, he also has built a commercial cattle operation, consisting of approximately 2200 commercial cows, as well as a herd of registered Texas Longhorns.

As the chairman of Morris communications, Morris is intimately familiar with the western lifestyle as the company is the publisher of multiple magazines including Western Horseman, Barrel Horse News, and Equine Journal, as well as produces Road to the Horse and manages the Hippodrome in South Carolina. Passionate about the industry, he has contributed much to the equine industry and across many disciplines.

Thank you for your interest in the Creek Plantation consignments and for supporting CSU.
Four Sixes Ranch is part of the famous Burnett Ranches LLC, which is among the most storied family-run businesses in Texas history. Founded by Captain Samuel “Burk” Burnett in 1870 when he purchased 100 head of cattle wearing the “6666” brand from Frank Crowley of Denton, Texas. Burnett Ranches today encompasses 260,000 acres including the Four Sixes Ranch headquarters, near Guthrie, and the Dixon Creek Ranch, between Panhandle and Borger—both located in the western half of the state.

Legendary Quarter Horses and Superior Angus Cattle are hallmarks of the “Four Sixes”. The ranch not only offers state-of-the-art reproductive services and full range of equine veterinary services but stands to the public some of the most well-respected Quarter Horse stallions in the industry. The ranch’s elite broodmare band produce some of the best race, ranch, and performance horses available anywhere and helped the ranch be recognized with AQHA Best Remuda Award, and as an AQHA All-Time Leading Breeder of Performance Horses, Race Money-Earners and Winners.

As a commercial cow/calf operation, the high quality of Four Sixes cattle is well known, and that reputation continues today, making the ranch a front runner in the cattle industry. Preservation and stewardship of the land have always been a priority for the ranch, and in 2015 they were recognized with the Environmental Stewardship Award Region IV.

Thank you for your interest in the Four Sixes Ranch consignments and for supporting CSU.
Haythorn Ranch Company is located in the sandhills of Nebraska along the Platte River Valley, near the town of Maxwell. It is comprised of 20,000 acres of grass, meadow hay, and sweet water from the Ogallala Aquifer and is primarily a cow-calf operation, running up to 1,500 head.

The Haythorn Legacy began more than 135 years ago when a 16-year-old Harry Haythornthwaite, later shortened to Haythorn, stowed away on a ship bound for the US and when discovered was forced to pay for his passage by taking care of some white-faced bulls headed for Galveston, Texas. Upon arrival, he was hired by the man who imported the bulls and for the next eight years learned what it took to be a cowboy. He made multiple trips up the Texas trail where he found the Great Plains to his liking and opened a livery stable in Ogallala, Nebraska and later married Emma Gilpin. The couple led on a land grant section four miles east of Arthur, Nebraska, and an American ranching dynasty was born.

Entering its 6th generation of traditional ranching, the Haythorn Ranch Company has been breeding American Quarter Horses since before the registry's inception in 1940. Currently the ranch pasture breeds 15 to 25 mares a year and runs 20 to 40 saddle horses in their remuda, which are required to have good bones and feet, plenty of muscle, a kind disposition with lots of cow sense. Their horses are versatile and can be used by a wide variety of people for anything that can be done horseback.

Thank you for your interest in the Haythorn Ranch Company consignments and for supporting CSU.
Iron Springs Ranch, a division of Hall Ranches, encompasses a large area in southeast Colorado, as well as across the Comanche Grasslands and is rich in history and artifacts as the Santa Fe Trail runs across the ranch. Purchased by Gary and Havilah Hall in 2002, it joined the already established Hall Ranches, which were homesteaded in the early 1900s.

Currently the ranch is being operated and managed by the 4th generation of Halls including their 6 children. Not only doesn't the ranch run cow-calf pairs year-round but also breed quality, well-rounded American Quarter Horses for ranch and performance use. The ranch's remuda are used daily to sort, brand, rope, doctor and wean cattle but have also proven themselves in the arena for roping, versatility ranch, cow horse and timed events.

The Iron Springs breeding program include foundation bloodlines such as Leo, Peppy San Badger, Smart Little Lena, and Gallo De Ceilo and are complimented by the more modern genetics of industry greats including Dual Rey, High Brow Cat, Peptoboonsmal, and Shining Spark. Their tried and true blood running through their broodmares have proven successful over the decades.

Gary and Havilah Hall are both CSU Alumni and proud supporters of the Legends of Ranching Program and Sale.

Paint Rock Canyon Enterprises is the current operating name for one of Wyoming's most notable ranches, The Hyatt Ranch. The ranch is currently owned by John and Carolyn Alm, who strive to raise quality Angus cattle and Quarter Horses as did Sam Hyatt, the original founder. Founded in 1886, the ranch is located just outside of Hyattville, Wyoming at the mouth of Paint Rock Canyon in the western foothills of the Big Horn Mountains.

Much of the grazing for their 1,500 head cow-calf operation is done in high desert and Forest Service pastures. Paint Rock Canyon also started a ranch and farm intern program in 1999 to give college-aged youth interested in agriculture an opportunity to gain experience working on a cattle ranch. The product of these two needs became a full-blown horse breeding program. The ranch focuses on raising athletic, versatile, conformationally correct American Quarter Horses with willing dispositions.

Paint Rock Canyon Enterprises is also home to a summer camp program for high potential, economically disadvantaged youth from Los Angeles. The ranch sponsors 72 children each summer who are part of a 4-year high school program. A key part of the camp experience is their horseback riding program, which employs their very own ranch raised and trained remuda.

The Parker Ranch has a rich ranching history in the Pacific region dating back to 1788, when Captain George Vancouver presented five cows to King Kamehameha I. John Parker, a sailor from Massachusetts, first arrived in Hawaii in 1809 and began work for King Kamehameha I and in 1812 the King gave Parker permission to harvest cattle for the local community. Parker later married the King's granddaughter and, after being gifted two acres of land, began the Parker Ranch legacy.

Today, Parker Ranch plays an important role in the community by hosting multiple events, some of the more notable productions include the July 4th Horse Races and Rodeo and the Parker Ranch Round-Up Club Labor Day Rodeo with proceeds going towards the Hawaii High School Rodeo Association, Paniolo Hall of Fame, as well as multiple youth scholarship programs.

Over the decades, beginning with descendants of Spanish Mustangs crossed with imported Thoroughbreds from the mainland, the Parker Ranch has developed their broodmare band that have produced outstanding individuals with much success on the racetrack, throughout the ranch, and on the polo field. Presently the ranch incorporates popular American Quarter Horse pedigrees into their established breeding program with the purpose of producing offspring with good temperaments, cow sense, and usability.

On December 13, 1883 the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company was incorporated with 52,500 acres of land in central West Texas and a foundation herd of 9,750 cattle. Today, the Pitchfork home ranch covers 165,000 acres in Dickens and King counties near the town of Guthrie, Texas, with a satellite operation in Oklahoma.

With around 4,500 mother cows grazing the home ranch, the cowboys have ample opportunity to work the range in a manner very similar to the cowboys who first rode for the brand. The signature “Pitchfork Gray” - a gray horse with a black mane and tail -- has now become as synonymous with the ranch as the brand itself. The Pitchfork’s horses are widely known because of the success they have had in the ranch country as well as in performance arenas all over the world.

The remuda, consisting of approximately 50 brood mares, 125 saddle horses and 4 stallions, have come a long way from the small native ponies first used on the ranch. The first improvement in the horse herd came from a thoroughbred U.S. Military remount stallion named Trimmer, he gave the cowboys horses increased size and stamina. In 1941 the ranch acquired their first quarter horse stallion Seal Brown, then later Joe Bailey’s King. Through the decades they have incorporated other legendary stallions such as Savanah Jr., Gray Badger, and Dash For Cash and in more recent years modern genetics have been infused through horses like High Brow Cat, Playgun and Grays Starlight.

Owned by Land O’Lakes, the Purina Animal Nutrition Center in Gray Summit, Missouri is home to the Purina Equine Research Facility. Established in 1926, the Purina Animal Nutrition Center (PANC) is the premier animal nutrition research facility in North America and one of the leading centers in the world. Each year “the farm” plays host to thousands of visitors, ranging from customers and distinguished academics to 4-H club members.

Spread across 1,188 acres of rolling Missouri pastureland, PANC is home to 12 different animal species, and off-site collaborative research allows the nutritional needs of other species to be studied. This facility represents a continuing commitment to help customers grow healthier and more productive livestock and pets.

The company strives to create some of the best performing horse feeds in the world.

A proud member of the American Quarter Horse Association since 1980, this unique facility includes an equine breeding program comprised of 60-70 broodmares and utilize shipped cooled semen to continually enhance the genetics in an effort to produce well-bred performance and ranch horse prospects.

Rob A. Brown Ranch is a progressive family ranching business, producing premier beef cattle and American Quarter Horses while continuing the stewardship of the land that has been a staple of the family enterprise for years. The historic ranch has been is built on family tradition, passing the ranching legacy through the generations, and is now owned and operated by Rob A. and Talley Brown.

R.A. Brown Ranch has a long and rich heritage of involvement with horses and an unbroken chain of leadership in the AQHA. After inheriting the ranch from his father, R.A. Brown Sr., not only established the ranch’s cattle herd but is credited as being one of founders of the association, and his son R.A. Brown Jr. was elected AQHA President in 1995. Fittingly, both have been inducted into the AQHA Hall of Fame, becoming only the second father and son duo to share this honor.

In 1990 the Browns acquired a commercial cattle feedlot with the intent of further developing the ranch-raise genetics and continue to raise outstanding performance and ranch horses. A proud AQHA Ranching Heritage Breeder, these home-raised horses have successfully competed at the national level in AQHA Ranching Heritage Challenges, Versatility Ranch Horse shows, the National Reined Cow Horse Association, Stock Horse of Texas, and the Ranch Horse Association of America.

Saunders Ranch was established in 1934 just west of Fort Worth in Parker County. Tom Bailey Saunders, a descendant of the prominent Saunders family when they came to Texas in 1850 and established prosperous cattle commission companies in Ft. Worth, San Antonio, and Houston, Texas. They put together additional holdings that are now known as Twin V Ranch and Saunders Cattle Company in Parker County, Texas.

Tom Bailey III was a founding member and past president of the National Cutting Horse Association. His son-in-law, Jim Calhoun, owned, rode, and trained the first World Champion cutting horse stallion, Kings Pistol, in 1957. This line has produced industry leading sires such as Playgun, Smart Little Pistol, and Cat Silver, and have provided a cornerstone for the Saunders remuda’s maternal lineage.

Thomas Bailey Saunders V, operates a cow-calf and equine business out of the ranch today and continues to implement similar breeding practices within the horse herd of more than 25 head of registered American Quarter Horses. Saunders, who is well versed in a variety of horsemanship practices, started cutting and ranch horses for ranches in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and California, served as boss wrangler of the Ray Hunt tribute as well as on set for multiple movies and productions and worked side-by-side with Chris Cox, Craig Cameron, and Martin Black. The sixth-generation cowboy enjoys passing that knowledge on to the students of the Legends of Ranching Program.

“Take care of the land, and it will in turn take care of the people who work it”, Singleton Ranches is among the top five ranching operations in the United States and were the 2012 AQHA Best of the Remuda award recipients. The ranch was started and built off the intense variety of terrain on the San Cristobal Ranch in New Mexico and now runs the largest cow-calf operation in the state with 12,000-15,000 mother cows.

In order to navigate rough country, big boned, sturdy horses that their cowboys can depend on are invaluable to the ranch. Their young ranch bred horses are expected to gather, sort, and drag calves to the branding fire, while a select few are fitted and directed to the show pen.

Singleton Ranches carefully selects their horses to have superior cow sense, which can be seen in the stallions who laid the foundation for their breeding program including two-time AQHA High Point Junior Cutting Champion and Superior Cutting Horse Dual With Me (Dual Pep, an All-Time Leading Cutting Sire with performers earning more than $24,000,000, and out of Cow Struck, the producer of $495,560 with foals averaging $55,000); Timbercat 101 (Docs Hickory, an All-time Leading Cutting and Reined Cow Horse Sire); SCR Thunder Crackin (Metallic Cat x Smart Crackin Chic, the 2006 NRCHA Snafl e Bit Futurity champion).

Spur Cross Ranch, located in Gallatin Gateway, Montana just outside of Bozeman, is the home of Ingram Quarter Horses. For over 29 years they have bred, raised, and trained quality American Quarter Horses. The ranch currently stands their red roan stallion Peptoes, whose sire, Peptoboonsmal, is an NCHA and NRCHA All Time Leading Sire with performers earning more than $27,000,000. He is out of a daughter of the great Doc O’ Lena, an NCHA Futurity Champion and Champion Sire, sire of NCHA’s first Triple Crown Winner Smart Little Lena as well as other greats Tanquery Gin, Shorty Lena, Mr Sun O Lena, etc.

Broodmares are selected for Spur Cross Ranch’s remuda, not only by genetics, but for conformation, disposition, color, and overall looks. Spur Cross Ranch are very selective about what they cross their mares to and like to keep their program diverse by breeding to stallions throughout the industry from racing, and barrel racing to western performance such as Bodacious Dash, One Famous Eagle, Hez Our Secret A Streak of Fling, Prime Talent, A Smooth Guy, and PC Frenchmans Hayday, Sophisticated Catt, Catty Hawk, Dual Smart Rey, Reys Dual Badger, just to name a few. Horses wearing the Spur Cross brand are designed to be versatile and have had success in reining, cutting, show and speed horse events.

Not many can say they live and work on land granted to their family by the Homestead Act of 1862 but since 1902, when widow Yetta Goldsmith Kohn and her four children arrived in Montoya, New Mexico, six generations of the same family have made their living on the land now comprising the T4 Cattle Company.

As mercantile store operators, the family also established Kohns Cattle Co. and began breeding Hereford cows, buying a set of cattle and rights to the T4 brand in 1915. Over the years, the expansive ranch has been passed through the generations and is currently managed by Yetta’s great-grandson Phil Bidegain, along with his wife, Laurie. “As a family-owned operation, we all work hard to maintain our high standard in ranching, farming, and raising fine American Quarter Horses,” Laurie says.

The T4’s American Quarter Horse remuda began with two stallions, Bay Joe, a 1939 bay by Red Joe of Arizona and out of Goldy by Four Flus, and Carajo, a 1947 sorrel by Duke Baca and out of Penca by Little Mike. By selecting breeding stallions based on disposition, structural soundness, cow sense, and endurance the ranch has continually produced outstanding ranch horses that handle day-to-day ranch tasks with ease.

As the Bidegain’s continue breeding, they look forward to producing many more successful ranch horses and arena competitors like these from up-and-coming sires such as Montoya CD, a 2010 sorrel by High Brow CD and out of Pastels Pretty Peppy by Pastels Smart Lena.

The Tee Cross Ranches got its beginning under the ownership of Robert “Bob” C. Norris in 1950. The famous Tee Cross brand was the first brand registered in the State of Colorado and is synonymous with quality in both its’ American Quarter Horse and cattle operations. The ranch encompasses more than 95,000 acres in the vast ranching country of southwest Colorado.

Norris has a rich and prestigious history in the cattle, cutting and Quarter Horse world. He served as the President of the American Quarter Horse Association in 1982; a past president of the Rocky Mountain Quarter Horse Association and an Honorary Vice President; served as a director for the National Cutting Horse Association; awarded 1982 Record Stockmen Livestock “Man of the Year” as well as the 1992 Colorado State University Livestock Leader of the Year.

An AQHA Legacy Breeder, the ranch is known for raising horses with good bone and foundation pedigrees, while exhibiting excellent cow sense and speed. In 1999 the Tee Cross ranch was nominated for AQHA Best Remuda Award, recognizing their excellent breeding program, producing quality Quarter Horses for not only ranch use but also in a variety of competitions around the world.

T-Heart Ranch, founded by Shane and Beth Temple in 1993, is located near Del Norte, Colorado in the beautiful San Luis Valley. A family business, the ranch has grown from 30 head of cattle on rented land to a thriving business with about 1,000 head of Sim Angus, Simmental, Balancer, and Angus cattle. The T-Heart Ranch program focuses on producing high-quality, altitude-adapted cattle for their customers across the country. With a ranch ranging from 7,600-11,000 feet in elevation, the Temple family is no stranger to Brisket disease, and have worked hard to create a successful high-altitude breeding program for their customers.

The American Quarter Horse breeding program is relatively new to T-Heart Ranch, but their commitment to excellence remains consistent in this division of the operation. Presently running a broodmare band of 10 accomplished National Cutting Horse Association and National Reined Cow Horse Association broodmares and selectively crossing these elite individuals to industry-leading sires is the heart of the program. T-Heart Ranch’s home-breds are utilized in all phases of ranch work and are expected be work horses first, however due to the quality genetics, they have also gone on to perform in cutting and cow horse events.

T-Heart Ranch is a proud supporter of Colorado State University Equine Sciences and the Legends of Ranching program.

Wagonhound Land and Livestock’s roots go back to the late 1800s when the cattle drives came up from Texas and the pioneers traveled through on the Oregon Trail. Located along Wyoming’s Laramie Range, the ranch consists of more than 300,000 acres. The diverse, scenic ranch runs a commercial Red Angus herd of cow-calf pairs and summer stocker cattle, operates two feedlots, and harvests 7,500 acres of alfalfa, timothy, corn, and corn silage annually. In addition, the ranch offers elite outfitted hunts, specializing in trophy elk.

The objective of Wagonhound Land and Livestock’s horse breeding program is to raise high-quality ranch horses for both their own cowboys’ use and that of the public. The strong, well-proven quarter horse pedigrees within their breeding program not only support this goal, but also routinely produce ranch horses and performance horses for sale with the ability and talent to compete successfully in the most prestigious cutting, reining, reined cow horse and ranch competitions. Not only is Wagonhound’s broodmare band is anchored by some of the most famous mares in the industry but their stallion, WR This Cats Smart, has been a leading NCHA and NRCHA Sire since 2010 and the #1 All-Time Leading Ranch Horse Sire. He stands to the public at the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie, Texas.

Wagonhound is proud to support the CSU Equine Sciences Program through the endowed Wagonhound Land & Livestock chair, as well as remaining a proud annual supporter of CSU’s Legend of Ranching Student Competition.

Western Trail Horses, an equine training facility located three miles west of Sterling, Colorado, is owned and operated by Warren and Rita Thompson where they train all breeds of horses, as well as mules, for recreational trail riding. The business began through the love and appreciation of the horse in hopes to pass that along to all who want to become a better horseman through annual clinics to assist clients to sharpen their equine skills.

Every year the facility starts many colts as well as tune-ups on client’s horses using methods of horsemanship to establish strong foundations of trust, respect, and willing acceptance of leadership. Consistent training through groundwork, desensitization, and trail obstacles promotes a quality-minded horse, and is one of the many goals of their training program.

In addition to training horses for customers, the Thompson’s raises Quarter Horses and Missouri Fox Trotters and help find quality horses for clients. Warren believes that each horse needs to match the rider and the intended use and has found that the Legends of Ranching Sale has been a source of good prospects for many years as well as multiple Ranching Heritage Breeders throughout Nebraska and Wyoming.

Active in the equine industry, the ranch has been fortunate to employ many students from the Northeastern Junior College Equine Management Program; and have employees from New Mexico State, Colorado State University, and Laramie County Community College.

The American Quarter Horse Association is committed to the promotion of the ranch horse. The Ranching Heritage Breeders program helps ranchers market their ranch-bred American Quarter Horses through opportunities like the Ranching Heritage Challenges, exclusive competitions for ranch-bred horses.

The horses that come from Ranching Heritage Breeders uphold the tradition and heritage of the working cattle ranch, and when horses are purchased from a Ranching Heritage Breeder, that great tradition continues.

For more information about AQHA’s ranching programs and to apply to become a Ranching Heritage Breeder, visit www.aqha.com/ranching.
